Christine Daniels

UX Designer

Work Experience

UX Team Lead and Senior UX Designer // Fiserv

October 2018-Present

I managed a team of 3 designers and led the design efforts across web and native desktop applications for an enterprise-level suite of banking products that was scaled to 500+ financial institutions within 2 years. I collaborated with engineers, business analysts, content writers, product owners, leadership, and our clients to validate and implement our team's UX ideas. On a weekly basis I individually contribute to research, wireframing, a UX pattern library, prototypes, usability tests, and documentation while adhering to Section 508 and WCAG 2.0 accessibility guidelines. I also frequently conduct user testing with an automated platform as well as in person user interviews. My current project is creating an illustration library for my team to use across our suite of products.

UX Designer and Engineer // Black Pine Creative LLC

October 2017-October 2018

After leaving school and working as a landscape architect full-time, I switched careers and took the plunge to work as a self-employed independent contractor full-time. I worked with small and large business clients to create unique UI elements and websites that utilized PHP/HTML5/CSS/Javascript to turn Illustrator/Photoshop designs into publish-ready deliverables. While owning this small business, I was able to:

- Successfully launch multiple site redesigns built on the Wordpress framework
- Learn how to use and distribute code through Git/version control
- Manage the timelines of individual projects and meet client deadlines
- Design the logic, layout, and flow of web and mobile experiences

cfjohnsondesigns.com

cfjohnson1341@gmail.com

(248) 417-5133

Education

Ball State University
College of Architecture and Planning

Skills

Invision
Abstract
Illustrator
Photoshop
HTML
CSS
Javascript
Axure
Blender
Sketch

Interests/Hobbies

Watercolor
Sewing
Learning Languages
Archery
Cooking
Gaming
Currently 21,000 words into writing my first fantasy novel (!)